Re: Mario E. Castro v. NewRez LLC D.B.A. Shellpoint, et al.
Case No. 2:22-cv-06340-PKC-JMW

Dear Judge Chen:

We represent Real Time Resolutions, Inc. (“RTR”) in the above-referenced matter. On December 18, 2023, RTR notified the Court that it had not received any opposition papers from Plaintiff regarding RTR’s Motion to Dismiss. In Plaintiff’s Motion for Extension of Time and Notice to the Court, also submitted December 18, 2023, he claimed that he did not receive RTR’s cover letter or opening brief for RTR’s Motion to Dismiss. Notably, in his Motion for Extension, he also claimed to not have received any of the opening briefs of the remaining co-defendants as well.

Rather than challenging the veracity of the statements in Plaintiffs’ Motion for Extension, RTR agrees to reserve both its cover letter and opening brief on Plaintiff, if the Court wishes to reset briefing deadlines on the motion.

Kindly review this submission and advise if further information is needed from RTR.

Sincerely,

HOLLAND & KNIGHT LLP
